

Tamarisk Times

June 20th, 2008

Issue 7

Kola Pours it On!

Mission Accomplished

Schedule for Today:

- 1:00 PM—Reconvene at Base Camp (heck yeah for a half work-day!)
- 5:30 PM—Dinner
- 6:30 PM—The Closing Show!
- 10:00 PM—Lights Out

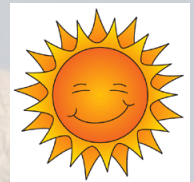

Congratulations and Thanks to everyone for all of your effort in this project! Today we finished our work projects and we are proud to recognize that we have gone above and beyond the expectations of the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management to eradicate that dreaded Tamarisk!

Everyone has done a marvelous job, today and every day.

We say thankya.

Weather Report for Today!

Sunny (again)

High of 95°F

Low of 51°F

12% Chance of rain for today, the most all week! Do we get lucky?

7 mph Winds, enough for a little relief.

Recommendation: Watch out for snakes! The green eyes of envy are deadly to all snakes

Instructor Corps Departs

A touching farewell ceremony bid goodbye to our Instructor Corps last evening—I think we all feel that without them this project could not have succeeded. Thank you IC (wherever you may be) for all that you've done!

Manti-LA Sal National
June 14 - June 21, 2008

Tamarisk Times

June 20th, 2008

Issue 7

Ultimate Philmont Lunch Challenge

The last day of Philmont lunches is here, and a few of the staff are offering a challenge:

It is rumored that the Good(y)man bars have hidden messages from the Order of the Arrow's founder in the writing covering the rice krispie knock-off. Only one person to date has successfully unscrambled the writing to spell out (with no extra letters) the Obligation of the Order of the Arrow.

To the participant that can successfully show us how this is done, we offer $10!

Closing Show at 6:30 PM!

Program Staff brings you the final show for this service project. Tonight's show will make this event's memory lasting in the true tradition of National Event Shows, so make sure you're on time for the exciting Pre-Show and that you're as participatory a crowd as ever!

NOAC 2009!
It's coming to Indiana University...
You Should Too.

