

Tamarisk Times

June 17th, 2008

Issue 5

Update: War on Tamarisk

We would like to extend a congratulations to all the crews and squads. Everyone's hard work on day one made a huge impact; 11 miles!!! Please take note of the schedule below to see where you will be tomorrow. Let's put in another day of hard work and knock out the miles. We are on day two and well on the way to an extremely successful project. 'Kill the Tamarisk'

Schedule for Today:

- 5:30 AM—Camp Get Up!!!
- 6:30 AM—Breakfast if it's your Rec Day!
- 7:15 AM—Breakfast for the Workin' Crew
- 4:00 PM—Reconvene at Base Camp
- 5:30 PM—Dinner Shift 1
- 6:00 PM—Busses depart for the Wave Pool!
- 6:15 PM—Dinner Shift 2
- 7:00 PM—Local History Presentation
- 10:00 PM—Lights Out

Crew	Pick-Up Time	Leave Project Site	Work Site
A1	7:05 A.M.	3:00 P.M.	Joe's Valley
A2	7:05 A.M.	3:00 P.M.	Dry Wash
A3	7:05 A.M.	3:00 P.M.	Dry Wash
B1	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn S.C.
B2	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn S.C.
B3	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn S.C.
C1	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash
C2	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash
C3	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash
D1	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Recreation
D2	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Recreation
D3	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Recreation
E1	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash
E2	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash
E3	7:50 A.M.	3:30 P.M.	Buckhorn Wash

Weather Report for Today!

Sunny

High of 92°F

Low of 54°F

5% Chance of rain (that means none) and 20% chance of cloud cover (relatively little)

5 mph Winds (like a soft fan that's 3 miles away)

Recommendation: Drink lots of water. Clear and Copious everybody.

(it's blue; sprayed)
Another One Bites the Dust

Manti-La Sal National Monument
June 14 - June 21, 2008

Last night Program hosted a Jeopardy contest to pick the minds of our participants. Congratulations to The Tamarisk Trashers, the winner of last night's tournament!

Jeopardy Winner!

Tamarisk Times

June 17th, 2008

Camera Uploading

Issue 5

Available!

Yes, we have a guest...

Tonight—FUN FUN FUN!!!!

Busses to the Wave Pool depart at 6 PM sharp! It's first come, first served, but you can only go on Either Tuesday Or Thursday! So make your choice and pick a night and get in line!

Are you taking pictures? Please help out our staff by uploading copies of your photos into our documentation system at Dinner! Ask for John Kondziolka or Robert Mason. You can get Published! (see right)

Photo by Dawn Miller

Meet Peanut!

Peanut the Puppy (officially titled Peanut the Dog), has been hanging around base camp quite a bit. While she has not visited any of the work sites as of yet, we hope to find her a place on staff. She likes to find scraps, and we have set a water bowl out for her (so please don't mess with it).

Mountain Biking ROCKED!

For those who don't go to the wave pool, there will be the opportunity for a lesson in Local History by Dot-tie Grimes at 7 PM at the School Commons

A Word from Kola

We're number two, we work harder. Even though we are the second largest contingent, we are first in spirit. By the end of the week Kola will kill more Tam-mies than anyone else. We will eat snakes for breakfast by Friday.

Jack Hess, Incident Commander

Kola Rocks!

(Lodge of the Incident Commander)

Editor's Note: The Tamarisk Times accepts submissions (Scout-appropriate) from participants. Retaliate. Now.

In addition, she likes to sleep in people's tents, so if you're not cool with that zip it up! And, as a note from Safety, Peanut is an unfamiliar animal, so you should probably wash your hands after petting her.

Trading Post Items are becoming as scarce as Tamarisk around here!

Get your gear now, because it won't be there tomorrow. It's going quick and a lot is already gone. Don't Delay, Pay Today!

